neolith sintered stone

Transforming imagination into functionality, Neolith is the premium fashion stone. Imported directly from Europe, Neolith synergises the utmost design principles with functionality, resulting in a scratch, stain and heat-resistant surface. Made to the highest international standards, Neolith is available in a wide range of styles and textures and is suitable for the most demanding applications.

CDK Stone is currently offering a select number of Neolith styles at a discounted price. Contact your local CDK Stone branch to order.

Please note: The discounted/clearance pricing only applies while current stock is available. If additional material is required, standard pricing will apply. Please check availability prior to ordering. No further discounts apply.
